THE POOR POTATO

If it wasn't so darn serious it would really be funny—the placing of potato growing under AAA control.

Looked as though that everything that could be regulated or regulated had been thrown under alphabetical control and that we were having a close race with Russia in being sovietized—which shows how little one knows after all.

THE LITTLE POPKERS

We were under the impression that the height of insignificance had been reached when Secretary Wallace and his associate brazenly trusted us, believing they could improve upon the way God Almighty does things, conceived the "hog" program. Its purpose was to reduce the number of hogs to increase the price of pork. Little pigs were slaughtered and converted into fertilizer to the number of six million. The price of pork did advance and now, and it has been advancing ever since with the result that the man of ordinary income cannot afford to have that kind of meat on his table any more.

MORE STUPIDITY

Now comes to the surface another evidence of stupidity, the placing of the potato-growing industry under AAA control. Under this plan the man who plants potatoes in large acreage, down to the man who plants them in his back yard for family use, is to be regimented. Just fancy, a quota is to be allocated to every grower, large or small, and if it is violated the

Constitution

Day Proclaimed
By Mayor Scott

September 17 was proclaimed Constitution Day in Richmond by Mayor W. W. Scott yesterday, who called upon all citizens to observe the day.

His proclamation was as follows:

A PROCLAMATION
Constitution Day, Tuesday,
September 17

Whereas, seven score and eight years ago the American nation was given life by the formulation and signing of the Constitution and

whereas, this great document embodies the principles of freedom and constitutes a final refuge for every human right enjoyed by any citizen, and

Whereas, the fundamental principles of the Constitution have been the source and the inspiration for the growth of this vast civilization economically and politically, and

Whereas, the preceding generations have handed down to us intact the ideals and theories of government by laws and not by men as a guarantee against the ravages of dictatorships which harass other nations today,

Whereas, throughout the nation many civic and patriotic organizations will participate in patriotic exercises on Constitution Day.

Therefore, I, W. W. Scott, mayor of the city of Richmond, designate Tuesday September 17, as a day to be set aside for the citizens of this municipality to commemorate in fitting and proper manner the signing of the Constitution to the end that we may dedicate ourselves anew to the constant protection and defense of this great document of freedom.

MAYOR SLUGGED

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 13.—UP—Slugging of Mayor Thomas E. Latimer by an unidentified man was added today to the violence which has marked bloody labor disputes here. The Mayor was hit in the mouth as he left a Farmer-Labor mass meeting called as a protest against the slaying of two bystanders, allegedly by police, during the strike riot early yesterday.

Leval Warns Mussolini
French Will Fight With British; Italy Is Ired

Duce Is Bitter At Stand Taken By French Chief

ROME, Sept. 13.—UP—Amazed and angered at France's stand with Britain against breach of the League Covenant, Italy tonight struck back by virtually barring any settlement but war.

An official spokesman asserted that no proposal from the League committee of five, backed only upon Ethiopia's good faith, will be accepted by Italy because Italy through bitter experience knows little or no trust should be placed in Ethiopia.

HIT UNITED STATES

In the same breath, the spokesman struck at United States Secretary of State Cordell Hull, who called upon Kellogg Pact signatories to preserve the peace.

Hull's statement, the spokesman said, "created a bad impression in the official world" because it was interpreted to many countries as an outspoken stand in favor of the League of Nations' attitude on the Italo-Ethiopian question. It would have been better, in the Italian view, if Hull had spoken "generally instead of expressing semi-continental views."

The spokesman said Italy will reveal her opinion as soon as the committee communicates the results of its work, Italian officials were skeptical of the committee's ability.

Ethiopia To Call Million
Men To Arms

ADDIS ABABA, Sept. 13.—UP—Premier Benito Mussolini's East African campaign probably will end suddenly after short, amateurish thrusts from the north and south simultaneously, a high foreign authority told the United Press to night.

"I believe that under existing conditions in Europe," he said, "Mussolini will find himself content with what he will be able to gain in a short fight, encirclement, perhaps, the Abaya Plateau, part of Wedda Shire, Ogaden and maybe Aussa."

MORE MEN

However, Mussolini's ultra-modern army will not gain even those objectives without the attendant mass slaughter of modern warfare, for Emperor Haile Selassie is planning to put 750,000 more men in the field to "defend every inch of Ethiopian territory with our last drop of blood."

The negus today prepared a tentative draft general mobilization.

Many Visitors
Inspect Central
Furniture Store

Michael Vukelich and Joseph Kaplan last night welcomed a large throng of visitors to the open house ceremonies held at the newly renovated and redecorated Central Furniture Store at Thirteenth street and Madronafield avenue.

From six-thirty until 11 o'clock last night the store was almost completely filled with hundreds of well-wishers. The firm's wife was presented with a beautiful flower arrangement.

An orchestra provided music during the evening and at the close of the affair, prizes were awarded to many.

The store has been extensively remodeled and refinished and it represents a large financial investment. Vukelich and Kaplan purchased the building several months ago and they are determined to make the business one of the most modern in the City of Richmond.

An extensive array of the latest in home furnishing drew the eyes of the spectators last evening. The proprietors received many favorable comments on the appearance of the store and the goods placed on display.

All displays in the new windows are arranged in perfect taste and each window section is decorated to represent a room of a home. These display window rooms are decorated in modernistic motif and are handsomely furnished.

In observance of the open-house ceremonies it was announced that the store will remain open until nine o'clock this evening.

Driver Cited In Car Crash Here

Edward Fernandez, of 1911 Ninth street, Berkeley, was cited to appear in police court on charges of driving without a license, following an automobile accident here last evening.

The children have been taken to the detention home.

A car driven by Fernandez was involved in a collision with a man, identified as a motor vehicle operator from San Francisco, who was driving without a license, following an automobile accident here last evening.

The children have been taken to the detention home.

While many states charge a fee for motor vehicle operator fees, California administers one of the severest examining systems and grants permits without cost.

Support Pledged By Premier Leval
To British

GENEVA, Sept. 13.—UP—Words spoken quietly but firmly by a swarthy little man with a white necktie, Premier Pierre Leval of France tonight stood as a warning to Italy that France is ready to fight beside Britain and other European nations against any violator of the League of Nations covenant.

"Our obligations are stated in the covenant and France will not try to avoid them," the statesman announced simply in his anxiously awaited address to the League Assembly.

PLAIN WORDS

They were plain, straightforward words, but they contained a wealth of meaning. To Britain they meant that she had the collaboration of a great sister power to resist Italian militarism. To Premier Benito Mussolini they meant that if he hurls his Blackshirt Legions upon Ethiopia, he may have to face united, international economic pressure—and possibly even international military force.

The covenant, which Britain, Sweden, the Netherlands, Belgium, reportedly Soviet Russia and now France have pledged to defend, declares that any nation which makes war in violation of the covenant

IS BEATEN
BY LOCALS

Playing their first game of the 1935 season, the Richmond Mountaineer high school grid squad came home from Concord triumphant with a 14 to 6 victory over the Mount Diablo high school squad in their possession.

Despite the fact the day was Friday the Thirteenth, there was no jinx on the local squad, which waded through the Diablo team to haul up its first victory.

The Richmond team functioned almost perfectly during the entire course of the game, displaying a smoothness and a tightness of play which should carry it to victory during the season.

DIAZ SCORES FIRST

Mount Diablo opened the scoring in the third quarter when Benny Newman, former local high school player, ran around Richmond's left end, shook off half a dozen tacklers and ran 36 yards for a touchdown. He failed to convert.

Immediately after the touch down, the Mount Diablo team kicked off with Wilson taking the ball on his own 45 yard line on two plays the local team moved forward on third down. Wilson, a bushy Richmond back, raced a short pass to J. D. Vincent, the left half back, who ran 39 yards for a touchdown. Wilson then kicked the extra point.

RICHMOND SCORES

In the fourth quarter the two teams battled almost evenly in the middle of the field, with the Mount Diablo squad attempting vainly to put across another score.

With only two minutes to go, Mount Diablo had the ball on its own 45 yard line on third down, when Newman faded back, and to a short pass in the general direction of Terrell, for a yard. Terrell

Teletype Put In Operation

MARTINEZ, Sept. 13.—Marked by a brief ceremony, the new teletype system installed in the sheriff's office here was initiated this morning, to be used this afternoon in the opening of the Hutchinson quarry in El Cerrito.

According to police, Delgado was working on top of the hill which directed rock dust onto a conveyor belt. As he pulled the material down with his shovel, a small avalanche was started and the sand carried Delgado into the quarry, covering him completely.

The tragedy was not discovered until some time later when A. C. Miller, a miner at the quarry, was sent to the scene of the accident.

Miller found Delgado lying on the floor of the quarry, with the body and compound armature broken.

Peninsula Towing company and had lived in El Cerrito for the past 12 years. A native of Mexico, he is survived by his widow, Henrichetta, and the following children: Esther, 11; Mary, 10; Carmen, 8; Jessie, 7, and Vicente, 5, all living at home.

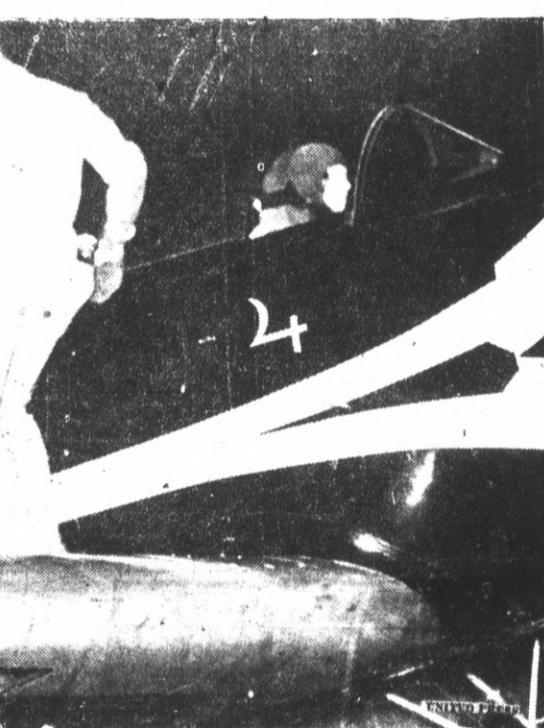

Two sisters, Mrs. Evelyn Delgado and Mrs. Adeline Delgado, and two brothers, Arvin and Alex Delgado, reside in San Jose, with Mrs. Carmen Delgado married to U. S. Webb.

The teletype machines similar to those in use in newspaper offices are capable of typing copy at the rate of 40 words per minute. The circuit connects the sheriff's office here with all principal offices from the northern to the southern boundary of the state and to the Nevada line.

Last night will be in St. Helena, where Father Casper officiated. The service will be held at 6:30 p.m. in St. Helena church.

Services will be held at the Wilson & Kratzer chapel at 2 o'clock Sunday evening.

FIRE CHIEF W. P. COOPER has returned from a three-day conference of fire chiefs held at Sacramento. Mrs. Cooper accompanied him on the trip.

Breaks Record*PROGRAM TO GIVE WORK TO JOBLESS

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 13.—President Roosevelt has directed Harry Hopkins, Public Works Administrator, to put on a drive and give employment to about 2,400,000 unemployed during the four winter months, he revealed today.

The Chief Executive is determined to provide jobs quickly with the $1,800,000,000 relief fund in order to carry out his promise to end the dole.

He pointed out that permanent public works projects won't provide the maximum of employment until late next spring.

LOW COST PROJECTS

The Hopkins quick work campaign is to last during December, January February and March. It will be somewhat like the old CWA program of two years ago.

The projects will be low cost affairs in which the cost per man will be less than $850 annually. It will include a good deal of "boon-doggling" and the construction of sewer lines, sidewalks, and other minor jobs in which most of the money goes directly to labor.

After a series of conferences yesterday with Hopkins, Secretary of the Interior Ickes, Frank Walker and other officials, the President devoted more than half an hour explaining the new complicated works relief set-up.

Boldly down, the new program means that in his opinion permanent public works are a failure as a means of providing large scale employment.

Roosevelt also made the significant revelation that he will recommend continuance of the CCC camps as a permanent American institution. He will ask, however, that enrollments be kept to 300,000 annually instead of 500,000 as at present.

Mrs. W. E. Blair

Mrs. Isabella Helena Blair, 31, of 625 Eleventh street, well known local matron, passed away at an Albany hospital yesterday following a lingering illness.

Deceased was the wife of Wallace E. Blair and was active in the Lincoln P. T. A. She was a native of San Francisco.

Deceased leaves her husband and a son, Albert, 11, and her mother, Mrs. Emily Danielson of San Francisco.

Funeral services will be held at the Wilson & Kratzer chapel Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Cremation will follow at Berkley.

NEBRASKA BIDS FOR NATIONAL GRIDIRON FAME

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 13.—UP—Nebraska Cornhuskers, fighting to retain a top position both in the national and Big Six conference fronts, will open a stiff nine-game schedule Saturday against the University of Chicago.

Follow up of the sport in Nebraska predict the Cornhuskers will achieve greater success this year than ever when they beat their current conquerors to Kansas State, the Cornhuskers' lone N. Bible shakes his head reluctantly and paints a rosy picture.

"We will have a good team, yes," says Bible, "but even if we do, we can't have a poor record with the kind of schedule we are running."

NO EASY GAME SCHEDULED

To emphasize his point, the man in charge of the schedule points to a list of games which opens with Illinois and closes on November 13 with Oregon State. Interspersed between these meetings with Iowa State, Missouri, Kansas State, and Oklahoma, are a breather game in Lincoln, Neb., and a "link" game against the Huskers' two western opponents, Colorado and Oregon.

Colorado, like, are more optimistic, only a few veterans remain on the team, but the new boys are more experienced than the men who made up the 1934 team. The new coach, John L. "Link" Lyman, has been promoted from the Nebraska coaching staff. Lyman, a Cornellian, an amateur, has taken over the coaching of the Huskers.

The Huskers' first game is to be hosted by the "Link" Lyman team, the second by the Nebraska team, the third by the Huskers.

Madigan Denies All Charges By Writer

The Richmond Yacht Club will bid for possession of the coveted William Wallace trophy during the coming year when Harold Becker's team bids for Skyline sailing against bird boats of other East Bay yacht clubs tomorrow.

The race will be held over the south bay course in connection with the Aspinwall Yacht Club's Harbor Point cruise.

Captain William V. Smart of the local organization reports that a large number of Richmond clubmen will sail to Hunter's Point tomorrow to witness the race and attend the barbecue.

The Skylark will sail agains

Eccentric Hansen's Robin of the Eccentric Yacht Club and Archie Beckett's Bobolink of the Eccentric Yacht Club. The Bobolink will defend the trophy for the Oakland Yacht Club as this organization won the cup in a team race last year.

The race was to have been sailed earlier in the year over the Richmond course but was delayed no contest because of lack of wind.

The Wallace trophy races were revived three years ago by the Oakland Yacht Club after the trophy had been "stolen" 20 years without a race. The cup had been one of the most coveted prizes of yachting in the eyes of the old California Yacht Club.

A dance will be held later in the season at the Oakland Yacht Club for the swarming of the Wallace trophy and of three gold trophies to be presented the three contestants.

Cards Beaten By Giants Nine By 13-10 Score

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 13.—UP—The St. Louis Cardinals and New York Giants struggled through three hours and four minutes of a 10-inning game before the Giants were able to take the decision 13-10. The victory put the New Yorkers 3½ games behind both the Cards and Cubs.

Dizzy Dean went to the mound for the Cards in the 10th after the Cards had matched a Giant ninth-inning four-run rally with one of their own, knotting the count at 10-all. Leiber and Manasco tied off with singles. With one out pinch hitter Koenig was safe when Durocher fanned his groundner and Leiber scored. Gabler then came to bat and lashed out a double to send Manasco and Koenig across the plate and put the game in the bag.

Nine errors were committed with St. Louis having 5, while Manager Bill Terry's outfit out-hit the home team, 20-9. Dean was the losing pitcher and

With the game opened it looked like the home team. Time after time the Mount Diablo squad would down in Richmond territory, knowing at the gates. ## ROGERS GIRL'S DEATH IS HELD TO BE SUICIDE

WEST CHESTER, Pa., Sept. 13—UP—Virtually all investigating authorities agreed tonight that Evelyn Hoey, auburn-haired Broadway musical star, committed suicide in the farm home of Henry Rogers, Jr.

Francis Grubb, chief of Chester county detectives, told the United Press that from conversations he had with Charles Dunlap, firearms expert, he believed Miss Hoey shot herself through the head as a climax of a drinking-party and an argument with Rogers.

District Attorney William F. Parkes admitted that nothing he had discovered indicated that the death of the 25-year-old actress was caused by another person.

DEATH WAS SUICIDE

Asked whether Dunlap had indicated if the actress' fingerprints were on the heavy pistol from which the single fatal shot was fired, Grubb replied:

"I can't say because the complete report has not been made, but from what I have been told, I am inclined to the belief that her death was a suicide."

Grubb last night said he believed the killing was murder.

FREED ON BAIL

Meantime, Rogers, 21-year-old son of the late Colonel Henry Huddle Rogers, and his guest at the drinking party, William James Kelly, handsome young movie cameraman, were released on $2,500 bail each on a technical charge of suspicion of murder.

Their release on bail further substantiated increasing belief of investigators that the death was suicide. Last night Parkes said bail would not be allowed either until after an inquest.

They were hurried out of town, presumably en route to New York, by Rogers' mother, the former Mary Benjamin.

NO MURDER CHARGE

The district attorney emphasized that the charge against the two was not an accusation of murder.

"It is purely a technical charge," Parkes said. "Besides nothing has been unclothed to indicate murder. The stories of all present in the farm house at the time of the shooting do not tell in all important points. Nevertheless, we are continuing to investigate to be certain nothing has been overlooked."

Asked whether anything had been found to provide a motive for suicide, Parkes said:

"Nothing. Rogers said he could think of no motive. Neither could the others, and I think they've all told a straight story. Unless new facts are found to contradict those we now have, it is my guess Rogers and Kelly will be discharged on the day of the inquest."

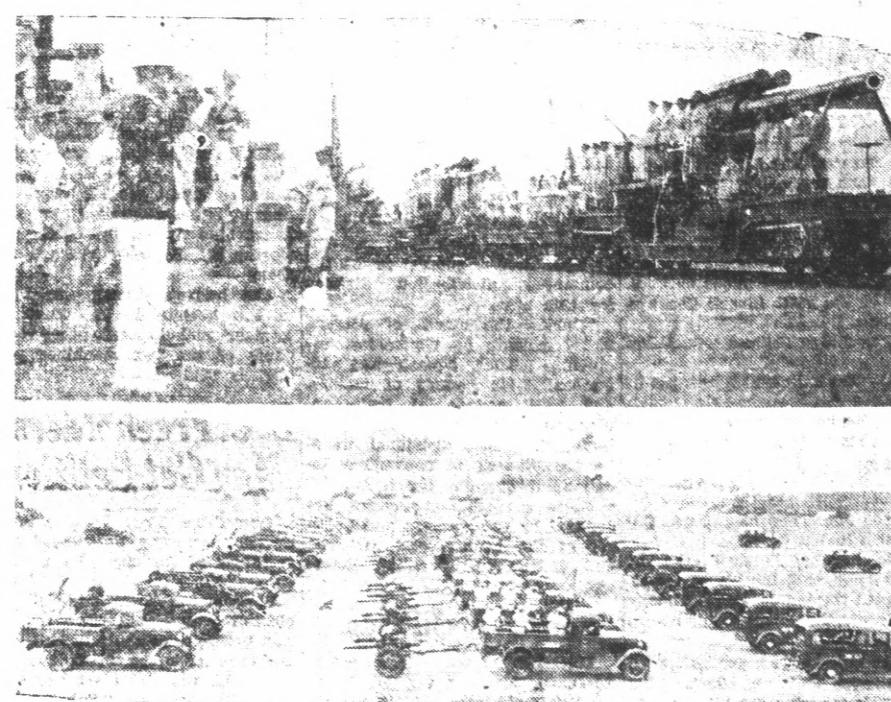

He was uncertain whether the inquest would be held Wednesday or Friday. Originally it had been set for Thursday but the expected absence of one of the principals on that day caused a change in plans.

Parkes told of young Rogers' remorse at the death of his actress friend.

$22,040 Budget For Community Chest

The budget for this year's Community Chest campaign was officially announced yesterday as being $22,040.20, the minimum sum upon which the agencies can be expected to operate during the next year.

The budget was arrived at after three weeks' intensive work by the committee, of which Gifford T. Douglas is chairman, and which included Walter T. Helms, Frances H. Smith, Mrs. Tex Caffee, J. A. McVittie, J. L. Miller, W. E. Dummey, Clyde Parker, Dr. A. B. Hildreth, Mrs. Helen Rosenberg, Fred S. Newsom, Ralph Bergan, W. C. Newson, and A. J. Farber, president of the chest.

NEEDS STUDIED

The figure of $22,040.20 was reached after a thorough study of the needs of the various agencies which resulted in reductions in some and increases in others causing the committee to settle on a figure slightly larger than the goal of last year, which was $18,20. After canvassing expenses are met and unavoidable gloom has been taken care of, this year's budget is expected to net $10,000 to $12,000.

Chinese Is Told To Go To China; Body Sent There

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—U.S. Lee Hui, 76, thought he could fool the white man's justice.

He appeared before Judge E. J. Harris a month ago, charged with narcotic possession.

Judge Harris looked at the aged, wrinkled man and decided not to send him to jail.

"Go to China," said Judge Harris, releasing the Chinese on $250 bail.

"Sure, judge," said Lee. "I go to China."

Lee disappeared and it was reported he had gone to Seattle, there to set sail for the Orient.

But last week officers found him in Chinatown here. He was to appear in court today to explain his deceit.

He didn't appear.

Members of the family, however, appeared and told Judge Harris he really was going back to China.

He had been killed in an automobile accident in Stockton and they were shipping him home.

Hollywood Film Shop

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 13.—UP—With the motion picture industry and sound now, U. S. there is more opportunity than ever for a actress to break through during the old days of the silent drama," declared Paul Cavanagh, British actor who crashed Hollywood.

"A girl with a particularly appealing singing voice today lands a job in the blues, whereas the same girl in the silent days never could have gotten it, for her voice meant nothing then," continued Cavanagh.

"A girl or boy who can dance well has a wonderful chance today. Ten years ago, a dancer had little opportunity in films, because there was little interest to dancing when you could not hear the rhythmic tap of the dancer's feet. Shadow dancing is like shadow boxing people."

HOUSE OF BANKHEAD
The House of Bankhead is the latest addition to the list of family office holders. Here is the claim representation on the Federal payroll.

Senator John H. Bankhead, $10,000 a year.

Representative William B. Bankhead, John's brother, $10,000 a year. Elected Democratic leader on the opening day of the last session, he never appeared thereafter because of ill health.

Henry Bankhead, brother, commercial attaché of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, $7,000 a year.

"You may point out that there are hundreds of extras who have been extras for years and never had a chance to get ahead. But where lies the blame? I know a lot of people who are satisfied with what they are getting and do not attempt to push themselves forward. You must be fired with ambition to reach a goal."

"Then, too, a man or woman must be able to take a hard rap on the chin and come back for more."

Cavanagh is well qualified to speak, for he has "taken it on the chin." He has carried brick-washed dishes and mixed cement for a mere pittance.

One night at Monte Carlo, he dropped $20,000—more than he had in the world. Instead of folding up as others might have done, he cashed in his return ticket to Canada, went to London, and became an actor. Hex-stuck to it until he caught up with success.

Frank works hard, plucks down money by the thousands for Democracy, wheats at every word written about him, and absolutely refuses to take any bows before the footlights.

So Farley is recently bound to the possibility of Dan Ross. He thinks Uncle Dan could handle the more politic job of Postmaster General, while Walker could be induced to take the more quiet post of Secretary of Commerce.

Unless the President finds some one else to take Jim Farley's place, some insiders think this may be the solution.

TRAMP FIGHTS TO DIE; THEN CHANGES MIND

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—UP—

For 16 hours Vincent Hieber, 55-year-old itinerant, insisted he did not want to live.

Grim-faced, he lay on a cot in San Francisco hospital today, deaf to doctors' pleas that he allow them to amputate his right foot, mangled when he fell from a train near Redwood City yesterday.

Physicians said the amputation was necessary to save his life, that only by sacrificing the crushed foot could infection be avoided.

Hieber said he didn't care.
Earlier, physicians had bound up his wrists, which he had slashed with a knife after falling off the train.

The physicians went back to Hieber's cot again. Before they could speak, he smiled wanly and said:

"You win. Life with one foot can't be much worse than it was with two."

Physicians now fear the 16-hour delay may make the amputation fatal.

SQUATTERS ARE UNIONS ACCUSE BIG PROBLEM SHIP OWNERS TO CALIFORNIA OF VIOLATIONS

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13—UP. The squatters' camps must go if California is to control one of her most acute relief problems—that of handling a necessary horde of migratory agricultural workers. Dr. Paul Taylor, Federal resettlement administration adviser, warned today.

"Squatters' camps are a menace to public health, to social health and to good labor relations in agriculture. Their existence is a challenge to our society. They can be abolished," he declared.

REFRESH EDUCATION

"Distressing living conditions prevail among many of the men in our transient working workers who 'threaten' from section to section to control the west and bring up brief harvy jobs along the way," Dr. Taylor reported.

Increasing migration retarded the education of children. Residential areas look askance at the nomadic and treat them as 'outhenders.' Children are hamstrung at schools, kept picketers."

More than 3,000 FAMILIES

"My rents are honest and at the mercy of whatever quarter may be available. In the case of a squatter's camp, the degree of his deadliness is heavy indeed. No provision is made for sanitation, water supply or general cleanliness," he said.

More than 15,000 nomadic individuals and families entered California during the two months ended Aug. 16, Dr. Taylor reported. Industrial relations advised the resettlement administration said.

LARGEST CLASS

He pointed out that the rural wage-earning class in California is the largest of any State in the nation, that crops are seasonal and farming is intensive, requiring a shifting labor supply. More than 10 percent of all large scale farms in the United States are in California, he said.

Workers necessarily must travel from one end of the State to the other, from the hop fields of Sonoma county to the lettuce fields of Imperial, from the apricot and prune orchards of Contra Costa, San Joaquin and Santa Clara counties to the cotton fields and fruit areas of Kern and surrounding counties.

Two government camps for such workers have been established near Marysville and Arvin. Dr. Taylor said. Funds for other camps have been sought, and authorities also are considering means of extending other facilities to the nomads.

Troop Increases

The Girl Scout organization wishes to make a correction to its membership list which was printed in the bulletin of the Community Chest recently published.

The figures in the bulletin were taken from a quarterly report of the Community Chest for the first quarter of 1935. The total number of registered Girl Scouts is 165. Besides the girls, there are 18 leaders and 10 Council members active in the program making a grand total of 193, instead of "nearly 190" as stated in the bulletin.

ON WAITING LIST

According to advice from Washington, although no allusion has been made for a post office building in Richmond, construction is not contemplated in the immediate future. In the meantime, before definite action is taken, Congressman Albert L. Carter is trying to get the sum of $100,000 increased to a amount commensurate with the business transacted by the post office and also to provide for future growth.

YOUR HEALTH

Alcohol in Small Amounts May Be a Very Beneficial Stimulant

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

THE question of the use of alcohol as an aid to digestion and a systemic tonic has been discussed pro and con for many years. One writer contends that it is good for everything, and another that it is useless and always harmful.

Some time ago, I heard a speaker make the statement

DR. CHRISMAN

Mrs. R. S. asks if it is true that good domestic wine may act as an aid to digestion because of the presence of natural fruit acids. The natural fruit acids can be obtained without the fermentation in making alcohol, but alcohol is first a stimulant. In a condition of an inactive stomach, where the flow of the digestive juices is sluggish and the stomach does not act promptly to mix its contents, good grape wine will increase the digestive process and produce a larger flow of digestive fluid by simply stimulating the flow of blood to the stomach.

A Twofold Action

In the case of port and sherry wine, often prescribed in convalescence to act as a tonic and blood builder, these wines may have a twofold action. They have considerable food value and their alcoholic content will stimulate a sluggish digestive apparatus. I know from experience, that a small amount of good wine or whiskey will greatly improve the health and well-being of a person who is weak and feeble.

I know of no drug that will give as much benefit to elderly persons as a glass of sherry wine, as a little wine before eating, frequently feel so weak and depressed that they do not care to make the effort to take food, or to do anything. A tablespoonful of wine, not too sweet, pep them up, gives them a feeling of improvement and stimulates the appetite to such an extent, that they will eat a good meal.

In the old and debilitated, a little stimulant enables them to be up and around and waiting on themselves, when without it they would be bed-ridden. I have one little feeble lady of ninety-eight, who often feels unable to get out of bed, but a teaspoonful of whiskey in the morning enables her to be up. She dresses herself and makes her own bed and comes down stairs to her meals.

One of my own family, eighty-five years old, a teetotaler from birth, tells me a teaspoonful of grape wine in the morning makes all the difference between waiting on herself and feeling good all day and not being able to do anything.

Major Curran Tackles The Noise Nuisance

By TALBOT LAKE

A CAMPAIGN against evils, real or alleged, is work for a strong man, but Major Henry H. Curran takes them all in his stride. The Major has just returned to New York City from London, where he has been making an intensive study of street sounds with a view to comparing them with those of Noise in New York has long been the object of numerous attacks by its citizens, who dub it the noisiest place in Christendom. For years explosive speeches have been made about the baneful effects of the elks, automobile horns, street cars and fire engines, but nothing much has been done about it. The city's Mayor, La Guardia, decided something must be accomplished, so, with his various committeemen, he created the Noise Abatement Commission and appointed Curran commissioner.

Major Curran was president of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment when that organization was leading the fight to obtain legal liquor. With the arrival of repeal in his native state Curran took a long awaited rest from activity, and thought definitely of retirement. La Guardia shook him rudely out of his private paradise by naming him to lead the noise abatement campaign. Being a good soldier, he accepted and tackled the problem in the serious manner of a dog shaking a shoe.

He works hard and devastatingly when there is reason, as now New Yorkers are hearing about decibels and how too many of them can bring fatigue to the average resident.

Major Curran is a Yale man, Class of '98, who was born in the city for which he now works. With a degree from New York Law School, he entered journalism and spent eleven years as a reporter. Running for the Board of Aldermen, he was elected and served until 1917, when he went to the war as Major in the Seventy-seventh Division. He was elected Borough President of Manhattan in 1919, and later ran for Mayor on a straight Republican ticket, being defeated by Tammany. He was U.S. Commissioner of Immigration at Ellis Island from 1923 to 1926, and began his anti-prohibition work in 1928.

A Reliable Stimulant

I must admit that I am unable to explain just why so little stimulant makes this difference. A sixteenth of a grain of strichnia will give more actual stimulation than the same amount of alcohol, but does not accomplish the same result. For a quick reliable stimulant in sudden heart failure, nothing produces as reliable action as a little wine or whiskey. This stimulation is short lived and needs to be followed by slower acting remedies.

The drinking of a little wine with meals increases the digestion, improves the appetite, and promotes a feeling of good nature and well being that is so necessary to proper digestion.

This is no brief for indulgence in liquor. No one in my family or group of intimates, uses liquor as a beverage. Even too large a dose medicinally defeats its own purpose. A larger amount may overstimulate these functions for a short time, and the resultant depression overcomes all the good effects.

Wine is a great help to the aged, weak, or convalescent from depleting disease, but it is a drug and should be used with much judgment and caution.

Dr. Chrisman offers readers the privilege of addressing questions to him care of this column. He will answer questions of general interest in his regular daily column on this page.

Sandwich Luncheon

A luncheon composed of sandwiches should include one meat sandwich and one of lettuce and tomato. One lettuce and tomato may be incorporated with a slice of meat into a single sandwich. Add fruit juice to such a lunch or a fruit cup and something to drink—either milk, coffee or tea—and a simple lunch becomes a varied meal from a standpoint of food values.

Guide to Charm

Skilful Tricks In Eye Care Hold Mystery

By JACQUELINE HUNT

AFTER you have made a habit of giving your eyes the care you know they deserve you can turn your attention to tricks for making them more expressive and mysterious. You all know that mascara, eyebrow pencil, and eye shadow tools with which you have to work. The first question is: "What shades of eye makeup are best for you?"

Tricks to flatter the eyes are nearly as varied as the eyes themselves. First, the eyebrows should be shaped to emphasize their own best natural lines, then eyebrow pencil and mascara should deepen and enhance the natural coloring of the brows and lashes themselves.

If you are a true brunette with very dark brown or black hair you can use the jet black mascara and a bolder shade of eye shadow. Girls of this type seldom need to darken their brows, but if they should need to a black pencil is used.

Girls with dark red hair and pale skin should also use a black mascara and light strokes of a black eyebrow pencil. Redheads can experiment with more exotic shades of eye shadow, such as dark blue, bluish-green, and emerald. Girls who have a fair skin and usually wear black mascara should try using a dark bluish-green with a softer blue eye shadow. This is a lovely combination for evening wear or for the bright sunshine.

Most other types find brown mascara and eyebrow pencil most suitable. Blondes who have acquired a good suntan during the summer, should try combining a green eye shadow with the brown mascara. This is an enchanting combination for many, but you should always experiment with different colors until you find the shades particularly flattering to reach the eyebrow.

If your eyes are too close together, try blending the color along the lower edge of your lid, then out and up toward the temples. Do not color the inner part of the eyes at all. In darkening your eyebrows, darken from the lashes, part of the arch out to the thinnest tip, extending the outer end if necessary.

Do not use an eyebrow pencil to outline your eyes. This is a difficult job and is rarely used except in theatrical make-up. For everyday wear it is apt to make you look hollow-eyed, dispirited, and poorly groomed.

After your other make-up and eye shadow have been applied, take a small brush and remove any stray bits of powder from your eyebrows and lashes. Darken your brows if necessary. Last of all apply your mascara. This may be done either by brushing the lashes first down, then up, or by blinking your lashes against your well-moistened brush. Touch up the lower lashes very lightly and let the mascara dry thoroughly. A speck of brilliantine or cream after this will make the lashes glossier and the mascara more lasting.

Other details of eye make-up are discussed in my leaflet, "Glamorous Eyes," which may be obtained by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to this paper.

Beauty Tips

QUESTION: "What is a salt bath? I have heard that they are recommended for blemished skins. My back is covered with blackheads and a few pimples that I would like to clear up as soon as possible. Is there a better treatment?" G. M."

Salt baths are invigorating in hot weather, and it is true that blemished skins are sometimes benefited by them. To take a quick salt bath, step under your shower until your skin is wet, then take a handful of ordinary table salt and rub the skin vigorously until it glows. Step under the spray from your shower to rinse away the salt and dry your skin thoroughly. To take a salt bath in your tub, fill with tepid water and dissolve at least a pound of table salt or sea salt crystals in the water. After the bath rinse with clear water, dry and rub the blemished area powdered borax acid. A thorough scrubbing with a comb brush, a rinse and rub diluted alcohol will also help to blemishes.

QUESTION: "I run a retail business. In addressing women I say 'madam' or 'miss'?"

ANSWER: Make it a rule to the extremely young-looking "miss." If a wedding ring is visible, or if they look old enough to be married, say "madam." If you will be playing safe, QUESTION: "When a man goes out walking with a lady is it necessary to kiss him to welcome him home?" K. L."

ANSWER: Yes; the man should be nearest the curb.

Sleeves, Wide at Shoulders, Bring About New Elegance

By IRENE VAIL

New York — The Paris models make a point of emphasizing sleeves. They are of extraordinary interest because of their inconsistencies, most of them add to both shoulder width and elegance.

Again it's a season of silhouettes, rather than just one silhouette. There are marvelous new designs with drapery. Other pleasant outlines are not dependent on it, but are the result of gored sleeves, and still hot cover with melted paraffin. Serve in cups of crisp lettuce as a garnish with meat.

Grape Jelly

Grapes should have a good color, but not be over-ripe for best results.

Wash and stem 1 quart purple grapes and slip the pulp from the skins. Save the skins. Cook the pulp with just enough water to prevent sticking at first until the seeds loosen, then press through a coarse sieve to remove the seeds.

Mix the grape pulp, the skins, 3/4 cup sugar, 1 1/2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind and 1 tablespoon quick-cooking tapioca. Let stand 5 minutes, then pour into a 9-inch pie plate lined with rich pastry. Cut the remaining pastry into strips, twist them and arrange across the top of the pie. Moisten the edge of the bottom crust, lay long strip of pastry all around and crimp down the edge with a fork. Bake in a hot oven, 400 degrees, for 15 minutes. Then lower the heat and bake 20 minutes longer. Serve with whipped cream.

Ripe Grape Butter

Measure 4 1/2 cups of the sieved pulp (from grapes used for jelly) into a large kettle, mix well with 7 cups sugar and bring to a full, rolling boil. Boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from the fire and add 1 1/2 cup liquid pectin. Pour into sterilized glasses at once and cover with paraffin. Add a second coating of paraffin when cool. This will make 11 8-ounce glasses.

A VERY FAVORITE JELLY.

Pumpkin luscious grapes, now filling the market to overflowing, inspire the busy housewife to take advantage of the ease and speed with which they can be made into jelly and jam. A few glasses at a time, and soon the cupboard will be filled with America's favorite jelly! Miss Wilson gives the recipe in her column above.

Wife Who Supports Unemployed Husband Needs Gentleness and Tact

By MARIAN MAYS MARTIN

PITY the unemployed husband of a wife with a job. One might think that he would rejoice that there was one job in the family, but he doesn't—unless the job is his.

This is an example of masculine logic, and like other samples shown it does not seem to make sense, let alone logic to the wives who are working and glad of it.

"Dear Mrs. Martin: I am one of those fortunate wives who have held their jobs, but I am unfortunate because I am afraid I can't hold my husband, too.

He has his job two years and we're not for mine. We would be on relief. He seems to hate me for being the sole support of our little family. I suppose it is hard for a man to be dependent on his wife and to have to stay home and do the work she would do while she goes out in the world as he should, but that's the situation and what can we do about it?

"It wouldn't be sensible for me to stop working just to preserve what he calls his self-respect. Don't you think it is hard to have to work and take abuse, too? Forelady."

Having a Bad Time

Yes, it is hard, but you should make allowance for your husband, who is having a bad time of it. It is not easy to function in reverse, and that's just what a man is doing when such a topsy-turvy condition catches up with him. His nervous system isn't equal to the strain and he takes it out on you because husbands and wives always do take their strain and tension out on each other.

Don't give up your job—let him try to adjust his viewpoint so that the matter is seen in a different light. If he went on relief his self-respect would be just as outraged—or so I should think.

A man won't work is an altogether different breed from the man who can't work, either because he cannot get work or is incapable. Among your most difficult tasks is to keep up your husband's morale. I think the best way for you to go about it is to make him see the present situation in a sane and sensible light of a makeshift—an emergency measure. Make him understand that he can pay the money you have advanced back to you or the firm when he does get a job and begins to get on his feet. That should restore his self-respect and make for a nice little nest egg, assuming he is able to do it, which, of course, you must make him believe he can.

He's Worth Having

Husbands can be very difficult and awfully touchy about matters of this kind. I suppose we should admire them for it, but I feel, as you do, that it is really leaning over backwards. Be proud of having a husband who thinks as he does—a great many women complain of having idle, spendthrift husbands who are too lazy to work and don't in the least object to being supported.

I well know there is something about reversing the domestic roles that is extremely humiliating to men. I have seen and heard of too many such situations not to recognize the fact that masculine psychology runs true to form under such conditions. There is nothing for you to do but try to talk common sense into his head and to minimize the housekeeping. It's hard on you to assume the bulk of the housework, but since hard-working husbands are expected to give a hand with the dishes it's only fair that hard-working wives should do likewise.

Do everything you can to make this sensitive soul feel you are working together—not that you are forcing ahead and carrying a load, too. I cannot help feeling as sorry for your husband as I do for you.

He is miscast and self-conscious besides being discouraged. That's a bad combination and one that calls for gentleness and patience on your part.

Miss Martin will be glad to answer in this column questions of general interest. Mrs. Martin cannot reply individually to every correspondent. Names will not be published. Address her care of this paper.

Ordinary pills taken to relieve constipation merely force a movement of the bowels without making the liver discharge its excessive bile. That's why we suggest you take our new product—Velveeta—so you have to swallow more pills.

DOCTORING OF SUPPORT FOR MONEY RUMOR BRITISH PLEDGE PEPS MARKET OF PREMIER

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—UP—Possibility of further money doctoring received greater attention tonight as traders awaited the next movement of the stock market.

There were three important developments:

1.—Weakness in gold bloc currencies permitting profitable shipment of gold to the United States.

2.—Sharp rise in Montreal silver futures gains ranging to 129 points—and increase in London bar silver price on rumors the United States would lift its silver quotation.

3.—Hints of stabilization as Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau and other treaty officials planned visits to various European countries in the next few weeks.

The money developments came as the stock market continued to prevent Britain from forcing collective action of the League to advances. Metal shares looked half or punish today.

MADE DECISION

In the final analysis, Laval seems to have consulted his alternatives. By making a polite but meaningless speech for peace he could retain against Germany but British Foreign Secretary Sir Samuel Hoare had threatened on Wednesday to withdraw Britain to isolation from the continent if the League temporized in this crisis. Furthermore it was probable that if Mussolini got away with his clandestine visit to the League, the Geneva organization on which France's entire post-war foreign policy was founded, would crumble into insignificance.

In the momenous hours between Britain's declaration to the assembly Wednesday and Laval's appearance today, the sober little lawyer and politician, thrust into historical importance, made his decision.

NEEDS STRONG LEAGUE

He declared France needed a strong league, needed Britain's support, more than she needed Germany's collaboration against Germany—even if it meant sending troops to fight in an international army.

"I speak," he told the assembly, "in the name of a country which does not fear war but which hates it; a country which intends to remain strong, and which is endowed with the highest military virtues. A country which is animated by a fierce desire for peace."

He spoke so quietly that the representatives of 54 nations gathered under the great gray canopy of the assembly hall had to bend to their earphones to hear him.

CROWDED GALLERIES

The assembly seats and the public galleries were crowded with an alert, tense gathering of men and women well aware that the Geneva institution, projected from the idealism of Woodrow Wilson into a materialistic world, was on trial for its life.

Laval spoke without oratorial gestures. France and Britain, he said, have formed a united front in support of the league. He indicated that if need be, France is willing to sacrifice Italy's friend ship if Italy disturbs the peace.

"It must be clearly understood," he said, "that there exists no disagreement between France and Britain."

Forestry Work May Give 150 Local Men Work

Hugh Towns, northern supervisor of National Re-employment service, and Andrew H. Stahl, manager of Sonoma county District No. 5 visited Ralph A. Wood, Contra Costa county manager of NRS yesterday and discussed a possible order for 150 men or more for forestry work in Sonoma county.

They wanted to know if Wood would be in a position to furnish the number of men required for this work. The housing for the workers and sustenance is taken care of as well as transportation to the work. This will be a WPA project.

Any men who would be interested in knowing further details about this work, call at the National Reemployment Service office at 1412 Macdonald avenue, Richmond.

Wood announced that the NRS offices will remain open all day today in order that men may be registered for the WPA project at Mare Island.

At the same time it was announced that all workers on the Mare Island project, who have been using boat transportation from Crockett to Vallejo should call at the SERA office to commute tickets across the Martinez bridge starting September 16.

Calm Succeeds Bloodshed In Labor Warfare

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 13.—UP—The turbulent Minneapolis labor front marked by two riots today, simmered down to deadly calm tonight when labor leaders, fearing a third disturbance, cancelled a mass demonstration against city officials.

Throughout the city, sporadic meetings were held under close police guard. Communist leaders attacked Mayor Thomas Latimer and Police Chief Frank Forestal. Fiery orators berated police for repulsing with tear gas bombs two marches today on the city hall, for firing into a demonstration Wednesday at the cost of two lives and 30 wounded and brandished Latimer, a traitor to his labor following.

They are paid on a per diem basis of $3.00 to $1.00 a day, and the money to meet the expenses is deducted from the benefit checks which the government mails to the farmers, and appears in the AAA financial reports under the head of "Local Administrative Expenses."

What next?

Two Killed On Highway Project

LYONS, Colo., Sept. 13.—UP—Two men were killed, another believed dead and nine injured in an explosion on a highway project in north St. Vrain canyon, six miles west of here, late today.

The dead were C. O. Cantorwine, Longmont, Colo., and John Monroe, Loveland, Colo. Jack Simons, Longmont, was reported missing and it was believed that he had been caught under a boulder and crushed to death. It was not known whether the explosion was that of an unfired blasting charge or of a tank of compressed air.

Congressman Is Scored For Span Statement

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 13.—UP—Replying to complaint of Congressman Richard J. Welch on asserted lack of state cooperation in the Golden Gate bridge project, East Bay Kelly, director of public works, today wrote bridge directors in protest of what he termed "false and misleading statements."

"I must ask you," Kelly wrote, "to direct Congressman Welch's attention to the fact that while he has been endeavoring to grasp international affairs at Washington, changes of which he is not informed have taken place in the city of his residence."

"Because Mr. Welch has seen fit to make a personal attack on me, I wish to point out that during the two years in which I have been director of public works, San Francisco has received more than 30 times as much state highway funds as it did in all the years that Mr. Welch as a supervisor, was going through the motions of fighting for highway improvements in San Francisco."

Kelly wrote that Welch is correct in his statement that the Sears Point toll road has not yet been purchased by the state, but explains it is because owners have not yet been able to deliver to the state a good and sufficient title. Such a requirement was a provision of the state highway commission's authorization of the purchase.

Ethiopia To Call Million Men To Arms

(Continued from page 1) order. It has not been issued and is subject to redrafting. Its publication awaits a propitious moment, which may come within a week.

INCREASE ARMY

Hailie Selassie's new mobilization order would increase Ethiopia's army to approximately 1,000,000. The order was drafted at insistence of a certain group of the emperor's military advisers, but a second group won its argument for delay on grounds that such a move would be inadvisable in view of the delicate situation at Geneva.

Most of the men not already mobilized are totally unequipped to face the Italian modern weapons, and they would become useful only after the defenders were defeated.

AWAUT LEAGUE ACTION

A decision as to when to issue the mobilization order rests entirely with the emperor who probably will await outcome of the League negotiations.

At the first sign of an Italian advance either from north or south observers believe that Ethiopian troops will attack before the invaders have moved 10 miles. Ethiopian soldiers now are stationed within 20 miles of Eritrea in the north and Italian Somaliland in the south.

Woman Admits She Wrote Will

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 13.—UP—Tawney-haired Hazel Belford Glad, thirteenth-wed widow, tonight admitted she wrote the will in which reaction was: "We have gone so far as to indicate that he will go ahead with his East African campaign as he has threatened with the League, without it or against it."

A typical "man in the street" was unconcerned consternation at the port of the first extracts received in Rome.

STUDY TEXT

Officials studied the text of Premier Pierre Laval's strong words to the League assembly at Geneva. There was unconcerned consternation at the port of the first extracts received in Rome.

Final decision, of course rested solely with Il Duce. Yesterday he was reported planning a sharp report to Samuel Hoare's expression of the British stand. Now that he unexpectedly faces the hostility of both Britain and France, dominant League powers, there is conjecture as to whether he will make the anticipated international broadcast or press statement.

WILL GO AHEAD

Diplomats believe the answer lies in Mussolini's character—that he will go ahead with his East African campaign as he has threatened with the League, without it or against it.
